KIRKSVILLE.

A little child of Mr. George Ross died last Tuesday.

At the sale of Mr. Billy Hagan, deceased, corn sold in the field at $1.45 and stock of all kinds brought fair prices.

On account of little Sarah McMurry's illness, Mrs. McMurry will not return to her home in North Carolina until this week.

We hear rumors of a bank being started in Kirksville. If our enterprising citizens would take hold of this thing, it would be a great help to the town and community.

We are sorry to see that one of our best citizens, Mr. J. B. Walker, has his farm advertised to be sold the 3rd of November. It is one of the best small farms in the county and will, no doubt, find a ready buyer.

Dr. Oldham and Frye made an exchange of property last week. Dr. Frye taking Dr. Oldham's house and lot in Richmond and Dr. Oldham a house and four acres of land in Kirksville adjoining the old Elliott Institute property.

The Secret Normal Institute has organized a Philomathean Society, which meets every Friday afternoon and is interesting and instructive to both pupils and patrons. It is seldom we hear a more persuasive or earnest speaker than Rev. S. M. Rankin, of Stanford, who assisted Rev. Zenon in the meeting at the Presbyterian church last week. We hear regrets on all sides that the meeting did not continue longer.

The ladies of the community attended the meeting of the democratic club last Thursday evening and were highly entertained. Dr. I. B. Oldham made the welcome address. Prof. Stevens then introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. R. W. Miller, who, with his eloquence and persuasive powers, did much toward making the democrats feel anew that they were laboring in a great and good cause and encouraged them to greater efforts in their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Tevis are visiting her father in Missouri. Miss Bess Elkin, a charming young lady of Louisville, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Josiah P. Simmons, returned to her home Monday. Chris. Farris went to Cincinnati last week to matriculate in the dental college, which he will attend as soon as his school here is finished. He is a fine young man and we predict for him a brilliant future. Rev. and Mrs. Potter went back to Nashville Tuesday, where he has the care of a flourishing church. Mrs. Potter, who has been in poor health, spent most of the summer with her father, Mr. Wm. Jones, but goes to Nashville very much improved.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Two suits of $5,000 each were filed in the Pulaski circuit court against the city of Somerset for injuries sustained on account of the city's water pipes being above the ground. Other suits will probably follow.

Mayor Parker, of Somerset, vetoed the action of the board in resolving to grant saloon license. He takes the ground that the action of the board was premature for the reason the late so-called election was invalid and void. —Somerset Paragon.

The Centre College foot ball team defeated the State College eleven at Danville Saturday by a score of 5 to 0. It was a hard fought game, and Centre made its touch down with first half, Martin, the fleet end of the S. C. team, came near tying or winning the game with brilliant runs.

The name of George W. Brewer appears in the casualty-list in Gen. MacArthur's report of Oct 8th. He was a native of Kentucky and a son of O. H. Brewer, a former attorney and politician of Berea and Richmond, but now of Oklahoma. His relatives live in Clay county and the mountain section.

Judge W. P. Raines has received his commission as police judge of Livingston and his bond was approved by Judge Williams. Judge Raines is the proper man in the right place, and as long as he remains at the helm, law and order and justice will reign supreme in the town of Livingston.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

BORED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue black, and I had lost my appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Buckler's Tonic' and to my great joy, within a few days, the tonic brought about a decided improvement, and continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and risked the grave of another victim. No one should not try them. Only one guaranteed at Penny's Drug Store."

Eighteen million people could be fed each day with bread made from Minneapolis flour, without increasing the present daily out put of the mills. In 1899 these mills ground over 60,000,000 bushels of wheat. This represented the product of over 22,000 farms of 160 acres each, the average yield per acre being 20 bushels. The railroads had to provide over 100,000 cars to transport this flour. The cars, if made up into trains, would be sufficient to make a full complement for 4,950 trains.

For sprains, swellings and lameness there is nothing so good as Chantlain's Pain Balm. Try it. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

MIDDLEBURG.

J. H. McWhorter at Yosemite, who made some reputation last spring as a successful fisherman, has perhaps gotten to be too greedy, and has had his luck turned on him. In order to be ahead of any one else, he lit out a few mornings since before it was light enough to see well and made his way to the river a half mile away. On arriving at his accustomed place for angling it was necessary to descend a bank about six feet high, under which he would find a safe retreat from intruders. In making the descent his foot caught in a vine and his burly carcass was thrown head foremost into eight foot water below. On reaching the shore, he started for home without stopping to look for tackle or other equipments. Having adorned his shivering body with dry clothing, he sat down to implore Mrs. McWhorter to keep a profound secret. But the joke was too good to keep and the boys are having no end of fun at Hansford's expense. Mr. McWhorter is a good humored fellow and will wait with patience his turn, and the writer, for one, will expect no mercy when his time comes to turn the joke.

There was a joint debate on the political issues here Thursday night. Ben V. Smith, democratic candidate for Congress in this district, and J. W. Colyer had spoken at Liberty that day, and had an appointment to speak here at night. W. B. Cockran had also an appointment to speak for the republicans and he brought Judge Belden up with him. A debate was agreed to and they lit into each other. Judge Belden off for the republicans in a 45-minute speech that was dry and uninteresting, which brought forth no applause whatever from his side of the house. Mr. Colyer then took the stand and for three quarters of an hour poured it into the judge and the republican party in a way that hurt and don't you forget it. Mr. Colyer is a fair speaker and was applauded from start to finish. W. B. Cockran came next for the republicans and remembering the flat failure of Judge Belden to create any enthusiasm, and his own inability to do so, he requested the audience not to applaud him. And he need not have made the request for if there was anything in his speech to applaud no one was able to see it, and he closed without disturbing the peaceful snooze that some of his republican auditors were inducing in. Mr. Benj. V. Smith, the next and last for the democrats, began by saying that he had learned that the democratic club here had been named for him and was proud of it and would get the little thing a dress. He then jumped upon the republican party with both feet and for the time allotted him covered all the issues of the campaign and dressed down Cockran and Belden in a way they were not used to. Judge Belden tried to go to sleep, but the deafening applause was too much for him and he had to grin and endure it. Cockran held up his head, but it was plain to see that he would rather be somewhere else. Mr. Smith is a brainy fellow and is fully able to take care of himself, with Boreing or any other republican orator he may chance to meet. It was his first visit here and democrats are much pleased with him. The debate was a flat failure on the part of Cockran and Belden and it will doubtless be a long time before the leaders here will be caught in a snap of the kind again. Cockran's speech might have been better had he discussed the issues of the campaign and not tried to engender bad feelings by referring to the Negro in slavery. If he has no other stock in trade he ought to get off the stump.

WANTS A MEETING CALLED.

TOON, KY., Oct. 13.—We see in a recent issue of your paper that the stockholders in the Somerset Banking Co., in Boyle, Lincoln and Rockcastle counties are preparing for an investigation of the affairs of the bank. We want you to say to them that the people of this end of Pulaski county are very anxious for an investigation and are ready and willing to do their part in the matter and we think the sooner we call a meeting of stockholders and go to work, the better it will be for us. We are in favor of calling a meeting at once and looking after our interest. Let us all work together.

D. TODD & SON.

When you cannot sleep for coughing, it is hardly necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat, and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

It is no bliss
To miss a kiss.
But, oh, 'tis bliss
To kiss a miss.
But sometimes,
After you have kissed her,
You wish to thunder
You had missed her,
Especially if she has been eating onions.

Vice Chairman Payne, of the republican National committee, has given out the following election forecast: Electoral votes certain for McKinley, 270; certain for Bryan, 115; even chances, 38; chances in favor of democrats, 24.

MATRIMONIAL.

Arthur Reid, 24, and Miss Florence Yocom, 20, were married at J. D. Long's Sunday.

Mr. Robert Smith Dulin, Jr., of Madisonville, and Miss Jean Campbell Clegg were married at Danville.

The question: "Is marriage a fallacy?" finds something approaching an affirmative answer in the Toledo case, where a man 96 years old beat his aged wife and was jailed.

Miss Lucie Waddle, second daughter of Mr. O. H. Waddle, of Somerset, and Mr. John D. Stoms, of Cincinnati, will be married at the M. E. church, South, in Somerset, Nov. 28.

A Missouri editor says: "We expected to have a death and a marriage to report this week, but a violent storm prevented the wedding and the doctor being sick himself, the patient recovered, and we are accordingly cheated out of both."

Two months ago Miss Vita Mulvey, a reigning belle of Metropolis, Ill., was secretly married to Edward Passo, a Texas ranch owner. A public wedding was to have taken place Oct. 3, but before the date arrived the bride confessed to her father that she had already been married for two months, and instead of a wedding she wanted a divorce.

FARRIS-WEAREN.—As this paper is being printed the wedding bells are ringing and gladness and joy fill the happy hearts of Mr. George H. Farris and Miss Janie Wearen. The ceremony is being said at the beautifully decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wearen by Rev. S. M. Rankin and Mr. Robert G. Farris and Miss Hettie Wearen, Mr. Barnes Wearen and Miss Mattie Alford are the attendants. The program is to drive to Danville immediately after the knot is tied, where the happy couple will take the train for Cincinnati to spend the first few days of their honeymoon, returning to Stanford on the 20th, after which they will be at home to their friends. The bride is a very lovely and accomplished young lady and has a host of friends. There is no more popular young man or a finer business man than the groom. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Farris and is the head of a very successful grocery and hardware firm. They begin, what is bound to prove, a happy married life under the most pleasing auspices and with the congratulations and good wishes of every one, who knows them, including the INTERIOR JOURNAL force, who wish them the happiest voyage over the sea of life to a safe harbor on the other shore.

CAME NEAR DYING.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and did not awake for eight hours. On awaking a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of this remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.' This remedy is for sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

The farmers who may wish to save the expense of dehorning cattle when they grow up, has but to buy a five-cent stick of potash, and when the little horns make the first signs of starting on the calves, wet them with a little water and rub them over with the caustic stick, and the calf will never know that nature intended that it should have horns.

The fruit trade in this country is assuming an importance hardly second to the cereals. The strawberry crop is said to be worth $80,000,000, apples $20,000,000, oranges and peaches, $20,000,000 and sufficient other small fruits to bring the total to $500,000,000.

Our foot ball team defeated Danville on their own grounds Saturday, the score being 5 to 0.

Dr. Acton tells us of the birth of a child in this county, which only weighs 1½ pounds and which is doing well.

The Baptists gave an enjoyable reception at the church on Friday night to meet the new pastor and his wife.

Messrs. Victor Lear, George Robinson, and K. F. Postle were elected deacons at the Christian church on Sunday.

Senator J. C. S. Blackburn will speak at the court house in this city, at 10 A. M., Monday, Oct. 22, county court day. Everybody who favors good government, civil liberty and oppose assassination is invited to attend.

A telegram on Thursday announced the death of Mrs. W. S. Elkin, at Atlanta. Her husband is a son of Capt. T. A. Elkin, and Miss Mattie Elkin went to Atlanta to attend the funeral. Deceased had visited this city and made many friends while here. Sincere condolences extended to the bereaved husband and the two bright little sons who are deprived of the greatest earthly prize, a mother's love and care.

Mrs. T. J. Hatcher is seriously ill. J. W. Miller has been to Lexington. J. Paul Miller spent Sunday at home.

Senator Farris and Representative Ray were at home Sunday. The former says that the republicans prevented the passage of a new election law, and would not even agree to an equal division of the unrepresented. Messrs. B. F. Hudson and J. E. Stormes have been to Somerset. Mr. Lee Ball is on the sick list. R. L. Elkin has gone to Atlanta. E. P. Moritz comes here from Stanford to buy beef steak.

Democratic speeches are being made from hill-top to hill-top throughout the length and breadth of Garrard county and I only regret that I am forced to make an imperfect and a cursory mention of them. One thing is certain—the democrats are wide awake and somebody is going to get fooled about the vote. A club of 50 was organized at Herring's School House Thursday night. R. C. Hamilton was elected president, Mat Siler vice president and John M. White secretary. This is a democratic hot bed and much good will be done in that section.

Messrs. J. T. Hays, Swinebroad and Davidson spoke to a large and enthusiastic club Wednesday night at Mansfield. The Bryantsville club, which is growing rapidly, was addressed Saturday afternoon by Messrs. C. Fox and W. J. Price, of Danville. On Saturday night Chairman Joe Bobbison introduced Hon. C. C. Fox at the courthouse and he drew an indictment against the republican party and John W. Yerkes, which had a number of counts, all of which were well established in a clear and logical manner, by indubitable evidence. He said that if Yerkes didn't run better away from home than he is running in Boyle, Beckham would win by a very large majority. He further said it was in bad taste for the republicans to accuse us of stealing at the polls, when they had stolen everything from the presidency down; that the courts gave us the title to the governorship while no court gave the presidency to Hayes. Letcher Owsley will make more appointments soon and help to swell the democratic majority.

On Friday morning, as stated in your last issue, Mr. John W. Poor, aged 79 years, died after being confined to his bed but a few days. Funeral services were conducted at the Christian church Sunday afternoon by Elder Jones, pastor of the Methodist church at Mt. Oliver, assisted by Rev. Leonidas Robinson and Eld. A. R. Moore. Deceased was a member of Mt. Oliver church and had many warm friends in that vicinity as well as in this city. It is safe to say that no man in the county had more friends than he, which fact was proved by the large crowd that attended the funeral from this and adjoining counties. The secret of his popularity was found in the fact that he was kind hearted and always ready to help the poor. He will be sadly missed by many besides the relatives. He had fixed convictions on the side justice and right between man and man, and by fair dealing and industry, had accumulated considerable property. The entire community condoles with his children and the bereaved widow, who was formerly Mrs. Ellen Owsley.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN,
Of Nebraska.
For Vice-President,
ADLAINE STEVENSON,
Of Illinois.
For Governor,
J. C. W. BECKHAM,
Of Nelson.
For Congress,
GEORGE G. GILBERT,
Of Shelby.

IN Kentucky the paramount issue is whether we shall have an honest and representative government, where law shall be enforced and life and property be secure, or a government where misfactors and murderers shall be exempt from punishment, where assassins shall go free and where the life of no democrat is safe against the passion or interest of any republican. Voters who are true to themselves and to the State can not hesitate as to their duty. In National affairs the question is whether the republic or the empire will be endorsed; whether the war of conquest for greed shall go on indefinitely or be brought to an end; whether American ideas will be repudiated; whether the National faith will be betrayed; the rights of man denied, the Declaration of Independence become a mere mockery, the constitution ignored, and polygamy and slavery indorsed. The issue can not be dodged. A vote for Bryan will be a vote for the republic. A vote for McKinley will be a vote for the empire and a vote to strengthen the arm of imperialism and to cripple that of free government. Can honest and intelligent men hesitate as to their duty? We think not, and feel sure that the verdict will be in the one case for law and order, and in the other for a strict adherence to the constitution.

BRONCHO ROOSEVELT was corralled in St. Louis and requested to comply with a requisition for the arrest of John D. Rockefeller and other Standard Oil magnates on the charge of violating the Texas anti-trust law. But, of course he would not at this time, on account of the election, do anything to offend those connected with the trusts, and the request was refused on the ground that he could not legally discharge the duties of his office while absent from the State. If this is a correct interpretation of the law, Roosevelt should immediately return to his own bailiwick, so that he can in conformity to his official oath, attend to his duties, for the performance of which, he is drawing $10,000 a year from the State of New York. He was in Kentucky yesterday to advocate the election of another man, who is drawing $4,500 a year from the government, he does not earn, but leaves the work to subordinates. Par noble fratum are Roosevelt and Yerkes when it comes to taking money that does not belong to them.

HON. BEN V. SMITH, democratic candidate for Congress in the Bloody Eleventh, is making a gallant fight against big odds. He isn't running with the expectation of being elected, but that does not affect his effort or his enthusiasm. The republicans claim that they will carry the district by 20,000, but Mr. Smith thinks that if they get 13,000 majority they will be doing well. This will be 4,000 less than last and will represent the real republican majority in the district, though if the republicans get a chance at the ballot boxes as in 1896, they will hold the returns back as then, to overcome any majority that the democrats may have in the rest of the State. The frauds committed there in the year named, suggested the Goebel election law and caused its enactment.

THE republican campaign committee has sent out large posters with the words in large black type, "Hang Taylor and Damn the Republican Party." They should be taken at their word and would be if a purjured governor of a neighboring State did not give as assassins and cut throats a safe harbor to it. There is as little doubt that Taylor will feel the halter draw if he is brought back to Kentucky as that the republicans in the party is already dead and damned in the State.

THE Adair County News is very complimentary of the speech delivered by Hon. George E. Stone in behalf of democracy at Columbia. Mr. Stone is one of the ablest and best men in Kentucky and we hope some day to see him in the gubernatorial chair.

GOV. MOUNT predicts that Indiana will go republican. But as this prophet is hidden under a dark cloud of perjury we will not expect much light from his prediction.

THOUGH the district was largely republican in the last election, those who have been over a greater portion of it, say that Judge W. F. Hall, the democratic nominee for appellate judge, has a good show to defeat O'Rear, the republican candidate, who is making such boastful claims. A better lawyer and a better man in every way that the republican entry, the people of the district would do themselves credit and at the same time honor one of its worthiest citizens by selecting Judge Hall, who, unlike O'Rear, whose telegrams about the time that Goebel was assassinated, show that he was cognizant of the schemes of the republicans at Frankfort, has always stood for the law. During his incumbency of the circuit court bench, he cleaned up a docket full of murder cases by sending many to the penitentiary and having others hanged. Except with law breakers he is exceedingly popular and enjoys the highest respect of the best people of both parties, a fact that was demonstrated by his election in a densely republican judicial district. With his ability and experience he will soon take high rank in our highest court, if elected, and there should be no question of that with such an opponent as he has. The Seventh judicial district has a chance to redeem itself next month, and it is confidently believed that it will embrace it by electing Judge Hall and rolling up a majority for Bryan and Beckham.

THE republican campaign managers have sent out instructions to swap votes for Bryan in return for votes for Yerkes for governor, feeling assured that nothing they can do can stem the tide to the great democratic leader. They recognize that it is a death struggle in this State and that if the party that has indorsed lawlessness and assassination goes down in defeat this time it will be rise no more. The INTERIOR JOURNAL desires the election of Mr. Bryan with all its heart and soul and will in no degree abate its efforts in his behalf, but as between his success in Kentucky and that of Beckham, we infinitely prefer that the latter shall be victorious. Kentuckians may be able to exist under republican rule in National affairs, but with Yerkes as governor and the assassins and conspirators in the assassination of Gov. Goebel, set free to carry their schemes out in politics by any means, fair or foul, especially foul, there will be little room for democracy thereafter. Let every true man gird on his armor and go forth determined that Taylor shall not be perpetrated in Kentucky either in person or by proxy.

MARK TWAIN has returned to his American home, which he left five years ago to begin life anew, as he said, though then over 60 years of age. A publishing firm, with which he was connected, broke, and his fresh start in life was caused by the commendable desire to pay the entire indebtedness, for which he, as a member of the firm, was liable. When he left he said: "The law recognizes no mortgage on a man's brains and a merchant who has given up all he has may take advantage of the laws of insolvency and start free again for himself. But I am not a business man and honor is a harder master than the law. It can not compromise for less than 100 cents on the dollar and its debts never outlaw." His legion of admirers will be glad to know that he has succeeded in accomplishing his commendable endeavor and dropped out of pernicious activity in politics. Had the eminent professor considered before he made the onslaught what a big job he would have on his hands if he whipped all the editors and speakers who say naughty things about "Brother John," he would never have undertaken it. Failing to fully consider, he is now a wiser, sadder and sorrier man.

SINCE Prof. Yerkes' deplorable experience in trying to whip a Paris editor for commenting pretty caustically on "Brother John," he seems to have fallen into innocuous desuetude and dropped out of pernicious activity in politics. Had the eminent professor considered before he made the onslaught what a big job he would have on his hands if he whipped all the editors and speakers who say naughty things about "Brother John," he would never have undertaken it. Failing to fully consider, he is now a wiser, sadder and sorrier man.

LEBONAN, where Roaring Bill Sweeney spends most of his time, does not seem to take much stock in the civil liberty, election purificationists. One B. C. Gardner, was billed to speak there Saturday and the fact was extensively advertised. Gardner came, he saw, he got sick. A baker's dozen could hardly be corralled, and after viewing the waste of empty benches he claimed he was too ill to speak, and boarding an L. & N. train, was soon back in Louisville. If every community would serve such hypocrites similarly, their occupation would soon be gone and their stipend shut off.

WHEN the republicans in the House at Frankfort lined up with Emmett Orr at their head and offered fight to the democrats, the bluff ought to have been called. Had it been, the leader and his band of obstructionists would have sought their holes, hid under desks and jumped out of windows in their efforts to flee the wrath to come. The democratic members have conducted themselves with great restraint and decorum, but they should not be expected to stand being spit upon and having it rubbed in.

CLEVELAND says he stands where he stood in 1896, which is equivalent to saying that he stands in the way of democratic success as much as his big carcass can obstruct the road. Nothing that he can say can have any effect on democrats. He was a mill stone around the neck of the party when he was in office and his course since has shown how utterly he was unworthy of its votes and confidence.

THE republican campaign committee has sent out large posters with the words in large black type, "Hang Taylor and Damn the Republican Party." They should be taken at their word and would be if a purjured governor of a neighboring State did not give as assassins and cut throats a safe harbor to it. There is as little doubt that Taylor will feel the halter draw if he is brought back to Kentucky as that the republicans in the party is already dead and damned in the State.

THE Adair County News is very complimentary of the speech delivered by Hon. George E. Stone in behalf of democracy at Columbia. Mr. Stone is one of the ablest and best men in Kentucky and we hope some day to see him in the gubernatorial chair.

GOV. MOUNT predicts that Indiana will go republican. But as this prophet is hidden under a dark cloud of perjury we will not expect much light from his prediction.

CANDIDATE ROOSEVELT was very complimentary of Gens. Buckner and Duke in his Louisville speech, because they have proven traitors to the State and the party to which they formerly claimed allegiance. Gen. Buckner got up and bowed his acknowledgements, but Duke considerately kept himself in the background, showing that he is not so far lost to shame as the man we used to love to honor. Alas and aye that a hero of two wars should become a deserter in a third and more important conflict of the people against imperialism, trusts and other iniquities in National and against assassination as a means of government and all forms of lawlessness in State affairs. The ex-governor and ex-general may enjoy the eulogies of his new found friends, and he is welcome to all the glory he can get out of it, but those who helped him obtain honors feel that he has made a mistake that ought to bring his gray hairs in sorrow to the grave, which in the very nature of things can not be far before him. As to Gen. Duke, he owes the L. & N. railroad more than he does the democratic party, and as he can not serve two masters, perhaps it is excusable for serving the one that serves him best. But a Confederate soldier is as much out of his element in the republican party as a fish out of water and should be regarded with suspicion and treated as a traitor.

THAT part of the democratic National committee that is representative of the party in New York State, has made public the canvass which enables it to predict a plurality in New York State for Bryan of about 25,000. The canvass gives a republican plurality in all that part of the State which is north and west of New York City of 60,000. It shows that the plurality in New York City for Bryan will be between 80,000 and 100,000, and therefore, a fair, although rough estimate justifies the claim that Bryan will carry the State by the majority named. The party has been making no extravagant claims about New York, and it is not till a full canvass was made that a confident statement was given out. It doesn't look now as if Hanna, with all the fat he is frying out of the trusts and other corporations, can stem the tidal wave to Bryan, whose election now seems assured.

A VOTE for Yerkes will be an indorsement of assassination, and his election will be the triumph of the worst element of the State. It will say to red handed assassins that their methods are approved and to other law breakers that they shall go free from punishment to continue to make war on society. A greater calamity than the defeat of Beckman could not fall the State, but thanks to Providence and the good sense of the voters, there is little danger of its happening. Evidence from all parts of the State is cumulative that the people are thoroughly aroused to the importance of results on the material and law abiding interests of the Commonwealth, and will say in unmistakable terms and by a majority that can not be gainsaid, that a party which indorses assassination and commands assassins can not exist in Kentucky.

SINCE Prof. Yerkes' deplorable experience in trying to whip a Paris editor for commenting pretty caustically on "Brother John," he seems to have fallen into innocuous desuetude and dropped out of pernicious activity in politics. Had the eminent professor considered before he made the onslaught what a big job he would have on his hands if he whipped all the editors and speakers who say naughty things about "Brother John," he would never have undertaken it. Failing to fully consider, he is now a wiser, sadder and sorrier man.

LEBONAN, where Roaring Bill Sweeney spends most of his time, does not seem to take much stock in the civil liberty, election purificationists. One B. C. Gardner, was billed to speak there Saturday and the fact was extensively advertised. Gardner came, he saw, he got sick. A baker's dozen could hardly be corralled, and after viewing the waste of empty benches he claimed he was too ill to speak, and boarding an L. & N. train, was soon back in Louisville. If every community would serve such hypocrites similarly, their occupation would soon be gone and their stipend shut off.

WHEN the republicans in the House at Frankfort lined up with Emmett Orr at their head and offered fight to the democrats, the bluff ought to have been called. Had it been, the leader and his band of obstructionists would have sought their holes, hid under desks and jumped out of windows in their efforts to flee the wrath to come. The democratic members have conducted themselves with great restraint and decorum, but they should not be expected to stand being spit upon and having it rubbed in.

IT is announced that Hanna will make 37 speeches in four days in the Northwest. It would be nearer the truth to say that he will make the same speech 37 times, and still nearer, that he will attempt 37 times to make a speech.

CHARLES M. LEWIS is now holding a lone hand with the Shelbyville Sentinel, his partner, J. M. Guthrie, having retired. Mr. Lewis is fully capable of the job and will continue to make his paper a power for good for democracy.

IT is undertaking to defend the trusts, Roosevelt has made as bad a break as Hanna did in denying their existence. But in this case neither a traverse nor a confession and avoidance will fool those who have seen how utterly he was unworthy of the people any of the time.

CECIL RHODES has again entered South African politics and in a recent speech said that Kreugerism was the cause of the late war. By Kreugerism we presume that he means the crime of resisting when one is being robbed.

THE Lexington Leader, as a general rule, has very little to say editorially, for the reason no doubt that the Herald looks after the interests of the republican party so well it needs no assistance.

IT is safe to say that Mr. Meiklejohn will drop Mr. Bryan from the list of his correspondents.

The Stanford colony in Danville seemed to be in good spirits yesterday, but we opine before another court day rolls around some of the members will be looking longingly toward Lincoln's capital. The families of Messrs. F. Reid, R. S. Lytle, D. S. Johnston, P. C. Underwood and others looked "as home" and as if they might be persuaded to remain in "Little Britain" a few weeks longer.

A SECOND shortage has been discovered in the accounts of the Paris post-office, and Postmaster J. L. Bosley has demanded the resignation of his assistant, Sherman Stivers, who, it is claimed, has a discrepancy in his accounts of $383. The trouble with Bosley seems to be that he has been aping Yerkes and leaving his business to deputies.

AS Lewis McClanahan, the colored bartender for George Weatherford, of Hustonville, was returning from Danville Friday night, some scoundrel shot at him, the ball striking the horse in the hip, but not hurting him severely. Lewis does not affiliate or associate with the colored rads of his section and this is believed to be the cause of the attack.

THE amount of stealing being done by Negroes to obtain fire wood is fearful. The inhabitants of Highcation a short time back, laid a plank walk along their boulevard, all of which has been carried off and Negro women daily go into the fields in broad daylight with wheel-barrow and axes and cut up rails into wood and haul it off. If something isn't done, the country surrounding Stanford will soon be fenceless.

PEAKE.—Judge R. G. Williams, who was on yesterday's train, asked us to announce that Hon. R. Frank Peake, of Shelbyville, will speak at Brodhead Thursday night at 7 o'clock and at Mt. Vernon Saturday at 1 P. M.

WE can furnish presidents of clubs with some excellent literature for their members if they will call at this office. We secured the matter to send out in supplement form but Postmaster Florence denies us the privilege.

DEATH.—Mrs. Levia Gregory, the aged mother of Duncan Goodloe, of Boyle, died Sunday at Fort Estill, in Madison. She had suffered two strokes of paralysis and had been feeble for years. The burial occurs this afternoon.

PEAKING IN ROCKCASTLE.—Hon. G. Gilbert will speak in Rockcastle at the following times and places: Mt. Vernon, 22nd, Livingston, 22nd, 7 P. M. Wilder, 23rd, Brodhead 23rd, 7 P. M.

Hon. Frank Peake will speak in Rockcastle at the following times and places: Wilder, 18th; Brodhead, 18th, 7 P. M.; Buffalo, 19th; Mt. Vernon, 20th, 7 P. M.

WHILE coming over the bridge from Riffetown, a colored settlement, to Hustonville Saturday night, John Montgomery's head caught a rock which cut a fearful hole in it and which knocked him out for a while. Arthur Peyton beat up George Baldock, another West End Negro, in great style the same afternoon.

OLD man Oaks, who lives on the Crab Orchard pile, had William Hunt, the cripple, arrested for drawing a pistol on him and threatening to end his life then and there. He was tried before Judge Bailey Saturday and given 10 days in jail and fined $25, but the sentence was suspended. It seems that Hunt claimed that Oaks owed him a debt, which he denied and it was then that he produced the pistol and made the threats.

A THIEF seeing Mr. A. C. Sine's safe open from the window Sunday night thought it a good chance to make a haul and set to work to gain entrance to the room. It was effected by springing a staple and lock, but disappointment must have filled his soul, when he discovered that only Mr. Sine's books and a few unimportant papers were all that the safe contained and they were not disturbed. Singular as it may seem Mr. Sine never locks his safe, regarding it doubtless as safe open as locked.

HOW IS THIS?—Hon. James Andrew Scott, of Frankfort, spoke at Danville yesterday to a packed audience and among other things, said that he knew perhaps as much as any man who was not in the conspiracy of the assassination of Goebel and that he was there to charge that at the meeting of the leaders at the Galt House, Louisville, to decide whether Mr. Goebel should be killed or not, Mr. Yerkes was present and whether he voted yeas or nays, was equally guilty with the rest, as the decision was that the democratic leader must be removed, and Mr. Yerkes made no effort to prevent it.

LOST AN ARM.—The colored excursion train scored a victim here Sunday. Ed Salter, son of Fields Salter, jumped off the train and in trying to get back struck a cattle guard and was knocked under the wheels, which passed over his left arm, mangling it from the elbow down. Drs. Cook, Peyton and Parkhill were summoned and they finding that amputation was necessary cut off the arm midway between the shoulder and elbow. They also found him to be badly cut in the head and also hurt in the foot. He rallied, however, from the operation and will likely recover.

GILBERT.—A good audience had an admirable speech at the court house by Congressman G. G. Gilbert, the close of a series of seven speeches made in the county during the week. To say that he added to his already large list of friends would be putting it mildly. He was greeted at each place with good audiences, especially at Klingerville, where the voters turned out in large numbers and gave him a most enthusiastic hearing. Mr. Gilbert has made us an excellent representative in Congress and our people are more than ever pleased with him. They know his worth better and realize that he is the man to continue to represent them. Dr. Williams hasn't the first qualification for the office and the better class of republicans will not support him, but will vote for the tried and true democrat, who will be able to do something for the district.

DR. JOHN W. KENNEDY, of Clifton Forge, Va., enclosing money for subscription, discloses the fact that our ex-townsmen, Mr. A. A. McKinney, is a merchant as well as an internal revenue officer. The Smith & McKinney Hardware Co. is the style of the firm and from all we can hear they have a gold mine.
